

Andrews says:

San Ramon hospital won't stop VMH plan

A battle which is shaping up over hospital territories in the San Ramon Valley apparently won't dislodge Valley Memorial Hospital's expansion plans.

VMH administrator Tom Andrews, listening to a report on the new movement to build a hospital around Danville, remarked yesterday, "That would mean about 40 beds to us — 75 to John Muir," the Walnut Creek community hospital.

VMH is proposing a 200-bed or larger medical center to be built in five years at Santa Rita Road, Pleasanton.

The report from San Ramon hospital proponents was delivered by Danville attorney Wilbur Duberstein, representing the soon to be incorporated San Ramon Hospital Association.

At a health services planning meeting held yesterday in Oakland, Duberstein asked the Contra Costa and Alameda County Comprehensive Health Planning Councils to hold off any decisions on expansion planning until his group could complete a feasibility study on a San Ramon hospital.

"Any precipitous act may result in wrong decisions," Duberstein warned.

Backers of the San Ramon Valley Hospital Association aim to collect contributions to fund a study that could pave the way for a hospital in or near Danville.

Backers of a San Ramon Valley hospital feel the area is growing quickly from south Walnut Creek down to Dublin but especially in the area north of Crow Canyon Road. (VMH's service area currently extends from Crow Canyon Road on the north to Sunol in the south.)

Duberstein characterized Danville, Alamo and San Ramon as "the area that seems to have fallen between the beds" when it comes to hospital service.

"There is a cohesiveness in our area that I think is overlooked," he continued.

Acknowledging that John Muir has just completed a major expansion, Duberstein predicted "pronounced growth" in Walnut Creek that will soon make patients from the Danville area "stepchildren again."

But there's one thing that may throw a clinker into the San Ramon Hospital Association plans, just as it is fouling up VMH's hoped-for expansion to Pleasanton: Lack of general practitioners, internists and pediatricians in the area.

Those are the "primary care physicians" most people call first when they are ill. Those are the doctors who refer patients to specialists who in turn refer people to a hospital where they are on the staff.

Without "primary care" available locally, people go out of town with their medical complaints. Then, when it comes time to go to the hospital, they end up in Oakland or Berkeley or Hayward instead of using their local hospitals.

"They can't do a thing until they get primary care physicians," VMH's Tom Andrews said yesterday after hearing the plans for the San Ramon Valley.

"Neither can we," he admitted. The VMH board had planned to put a medical center on Santa Rita Road, Pleasanton, but so far have not been able to recruit general practitioners to the Valley.

The number of specialists settling here doubled between 1971 and 1975.

Meanwhile, the number of primary care doctors remained exactly the same — at 33.

Valley Memorial leadership have tried to draw more people into their system by setting up the Family Medical Center — much like a large, well-equipped doctor's office with revolving staff and expanded facilities and hours.

The first Family Medical Center opened two years ago on Alcosta Boulevard on the Dublin - San Ramon border. The second is in the planning stages in Livermore. Others are planned for Pleasanton and

There's always a local angle

Strikers protesting the pending pay cuts for nearly 1900 city craft workers walked the picket line in front of the San Francisco Water Temple at Highway 84 and Sunol Road in Sunol yesterday. The strike in the city closed the Municipal Railway and other public facilities after supervisors refused to issue an emergency suspension of the April 1 deadline for the proposed ordinance, which include the pay cuts. When asked how long they would remain at their post, one of the strikers said, "We'll be here until Hell breaks down."

One citizen thinks so

Are barbed wire foes misled?

PLEASANTON — The two city officials who want three strands of barbed wire removed from the fence at the new post office have their hearts in the wrong place.

That was the contention of an anonymous caller to The Times, who for "good reasons" didn't want to give her name.

Mayor Robert Philcox and Planning Commission Chairman Walt Wood have objected to the three strands of barbed wire which were not shown on the original plans for the post office.

The city has no zoning power over the post office because (it is a branch of the federal government, but the least postal authorities could have done was told about the barbed wire in the courtesy drawings sent to the planning commission, said Wood.

Presumably the city would have had a chance to negotiate with the postal authorities and try to keep out the barbed wire. Wood was not too happy about the fence's eight foot height, either. It screens out a nice view of the Pleasanton Ridge from Black Avenue when a you drive past in your car, he noted.

The redwood slats in the cyclone fence screen vehicles in the lot, but the bad news about them is that they add to the fence's bulk, said Wood.

Condemning all these sentiments was the anonymous caller to The Times who would love to have that post office fence around her own yard.

"It's about time you told the other side of the story about the fence," said the caller. "Their concern for aesthetics is misplaced.

Any agency or business has the right to protect what is theirs from harm."

"I wonder if you know about the barbed wire which the city has around the sewage treatment plant (at Sunol Boulevard)," said the caller. She also referred to the fence around the Alameda County Fairgrounds which has three strands of barbed wire crowning its top.

In defense of Wood's attack on the postal fence, The Times informed the caller that he was concerned about the beauty of the new post office's location across the street from a community park and adjacent to a nicely designed postal building.

But that beautiful park across from the new post office could contribute to vandalism in the facility's parking lot, said the caller.

"The fence was up for three weeks before Wood complained," said the caller. "I think it's weird that it could be there for that long and then people start screaming about it." It shows the fence may not be so obtrusive after all, she said.

"I would love to have a 12 foot brick wall with barbed wire on top around my house. I have a six foot redwood fence and kids come over it, tease the dogs, and throw toys and firecrackers over the fence. I would love to have more safety and privacy in my yard and a 12 foot fence would be fine," she said.

"I'm concerned about protecting the stuff that will be in the post office yard. I don't want to pay higher taxes because of vandalism," she said.

"I've talked to many of my neighbors and they agree. Why doesn't the city get busy and fix the sewer plant or the streets. You can't drive down the street without breaking an axle. It's absurd for the city people to waste time haggling over the barbed wire or using the papers to fight their fight," said the caller.

Firearms policy requested

PLEASANTON — The city council should put a firearms policy on the books for its police officers, Department of Public Safety Chief Walt McCloud said Monday.

McCloud presented council members with a draft of a policy and noted that police officers have the right to know the rules on the matter, something a well-defined policy will give them.

Law suits against the city are also a possibility and the city would do well to have a clear policy on firearms, said McCloud.

The policy would be regarded as an "administrative guide for decision making before the fact" not as a standard for judging propriety of an action already taken, states the policy's draft.

Basically the policy states that an officer can use a firearm when it appears to be necessary 1) as a means of self defense from death or serious injury; 2) to defend the life of another officer; 3) to defend the life of a victim of a crime; 4) to prevent a crime in which human life is in serious jeopardy as a result of a suspect's actions; or 5) to apprehend a fleeing suspect for a crime involving the use or threatened use of deadly force.

When a weapon is used, a report detailing the circumstances would be filed with McCloud. The facts would be reviewed by a board of inquiry consisting of a ranking officer above sergeant, one sergeant, and two patrolmen.

The board would give its opinion of whether the firearms discharge violated any law or department directive to McCloud. The board would not be responsible for recommending disciplinary action.

City could ask detectors

PLEASANTON — Citizens may have to add smoke detectors to their homes and the city may drop Castlewood and other areas from fire protection, the city council learned Monday.

The two recommendations were part of a presentation of the Department of Public Safety at a budget information study session.

Fire Captain Bert Cherry noted that all new homes under construction in Pleasanton must have smoke detectors in them and the fire department is thinking about asking the council to require them in all existing dwellings.

Mayor Robert Philcox asked about requiring burglar alarms in homes. Director of Public Safety Walt McCloud said that his department is "looking forward to a good burglar alarm ordinance"

He observed that Hayward has had trouble with burglar alarms which automatically dial the number of the police department. It seems they sometimes malfunction and tie up all of the incoming lines at the police station. It's not the kind of alarm McCloud's department wants to permit in Pleasanton.

McCloud also told council members they should consider dropping the five special fire districts which do business with the city. The contracts were signed "many years ago, but some of the areas have become small cities," said McCloud. "I'm not sure we can serve them anymore."

McCloud noted that a developer is asking for 20 new homes in Castlewood near Foothill Road.

Pleasanton youth arrests rising

PLEASANTON — The ratio of youth arrests is rising and in the past three years has come close to adult arrests, Director of Public Safety Walt McCloud told the city council Monday night.

McCloud filled in the council on local crime statistics and gave council members an overview of the police division of the Department of Public Safety.

Among the things revealed by McCloud, Police Captain Ronald Nelson, and Assistant City Manager Alan Campbell were:

- Arrests last year included 939 adults, 666 juveniles. Of these, 242 were adult felonies, 222 were juvenile felonies (burglary, robbery, a rape, for example).

- One out of 29 city residents was the victim of a burglary last year, compared to one out of 30 in 1965 when the city's population was 1,200.

- The number of serious traffic accidents, as judged by annual property damage statistics, dipped sharply three years ago when the city got a federal grant for traffic education and surveillance. It shot up again last year after the federal money ran out and the program was curtailed.

- Over the past 10 years, two persons have died in fires, 17 in traffic accidents and 20 by suicide. Five or 10 have been injured in fires, 823 injured in traffic accidents and 183 persons have tried to kill themselves. "We tend to forget about suicides," said Campbell, who noted the new Department of Human Resources will be active in the mental health area.

- The dollar loss per capita for fires and theft has been dropping because of modern equipment and "dedicated personnel in fire and police," said Campbell.

- The existing police station was not designed to be a police station. Past city councils have not addressed themselves to this problem. The current council should decide the building's "present and future uses," said Nelson.

- Police reserves can drive a vehicle, especially to check commercial areas in the early and late hours, if the city can afford to provide a vehicle for the volunteer officers.

The police now spend some of their on-duty time writing reports, said McCloud. "We used to joke about Hayward as having one big report - writing system, but now we find our officers write three or four reports when they come on duty and leave the same number for the next officer to write," said McCloud.

McCloud commented that he is "especially keen" about residential burglaries. Stealing a load of tires is one thing, but stealing personal items, for example an heirloom watch, is a more serious situation, said McCloud.

Councilman William Herlihy asked Nelson whether the department has tried to relate the crime rate to income levels in the city. The department has not tried that, nor tried to relate it to other communities, for example, Livermore, said Nelson.

McCloud added it's hard to compare one community to another. "What Hayward calls an arrest, we may not, and vice versa," said McCloud.

World beats path to schools' doors

When the Amador and Pleasanton school districts put out notice of a job opening, the world literally beats a path to their door.

At least the response to said openings come not only in volumes but from far and near. A screening committee made up of a parent, student, teacher, counselor, classified employee and an administrator interviewed 10 candidates selected from 50 applicants, many from other parts of the state and two from outside of state.

The panel finally recommended the hiring of Dennis Wong and Tuesday night the Dublin High School math and physical education instructor was appointed by the Amador School District board to the position of assistant principal at Dublin High.

In 1974 Wong was appointed athletic director at the school.

The 33-year old native of Delano, Calif., attended San Francisco schools and graduated from Lowell High School. He received his B.S. in secondary education with a P.E. major and math from Idaho State University in Pocatello, and is now working on his Masters Degree.

Wong did his student teaching at Irving Junior High in Pocatello and took his first teaching position at Armijo in Fairfield, Calif., teaching math and P.E., and later taught at Fairfield-Suisun Unified School District.

He was at Fairfield four years before coming to the Amador district.

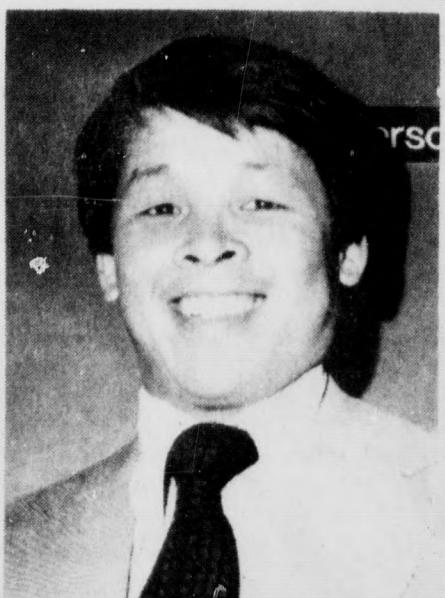

Wong, his wife Phyllis, son David, age 7, and daughter Tracy, 4, live in the Del Prado area of Pleasanton.

Wong's responsibilities will include student attendance and discipline. He will continue as Dublin High athletic director.

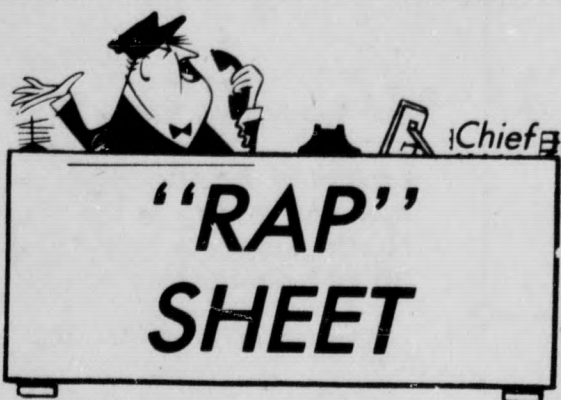

He replaces Richard Parks, who originally resigned in January but then asked to have his resignation rescinded and placement in a classroom position. Parks' request was approved contingent on the appointment of a replacement.

The Amador district is also seeking a principal to succeed Donald Landers at Foothill High School. Landers informed the board last month he wishes reassignment to another position in the district. He has been an administrator for 22 years and this is his second year at Foothill.

Applications for the position close April 15.

Armed robbery outside Bumbleberry's Monday night
DUBLIN — A man armed with a small caliber revolver robbed a Bumbleberry's employee in the restaurant's Village Parkway parking lot Monday night, a Sheriff's Department spokesman said yesterday.

Victor Lee Clarke, 33, of Concord, had just been paid by the store manager and walked outside about 10:45 p.m. when a man came up from behind, put a gun to his right cheek and said, "Give me the money."

Clarke reached into his pocket and gave him the money he had just been paid, plus some cash of his own. The suspect said, "Stay there," and fled towards Lewis Avenue on foot.

Clarke described the suspect as a white male, about 20-25, six feet tall, between 160-180 pounds, medium build, dark shoulder length hair, wearing a green army fatigue shirt, faded blue jeans, and dark-colored tennis shoes.

The weapon was described as a snub-nose .25- or .32-caliber revolver. The amount of money stolen was withheld at the request of the Sheriff's Dept.

Youth suffers burns in freak accident

PLEASANTON — Young Kevin Bradshaw of Tulipwood Place suffered second-degree burns when a cap-gun device exploded in his back pocket and set his pants on fire Monday afternoon.

Kevin told police he bought the device from a vendor operating a Munchie Ice Cream Truck and put it in his pants pocket. While walking home, he slipped, fell on his cap-gun and it exploded, setting his pants afire.

Police said they had no record of the Munchie Ice Cream Company having a license to operate in Pleasanton.

Kevin received second degree burns as a result of the accident, police reported.

Coins, TV worth more than $1,000 taken

PLEASANTON — Burglars took a color television and coins worth more than $1,000 in face value from Jim Allen's Happy Valley Road home last week.

Allen told Sheriff's deputies that burglars took a 19-inch Zenith color television, a Winchester single-shot 12-gauge shotgun, .22-caliber eight-shot pistol, and a coin collection worth more than $1,000 face value. Included in the collection was a $2½ gold piece.

Deputies found loose panels of sheet-rock with well-detailed footprints, believed to belong to the suspects, showing clearly. The panels were taken into evidence.

No suspects have been taken into custody in the case.

$200 chain saw taken from Dublin home

DUBLIN — There were no signs of forced entry in the theft of a McCullough 16-inch chain saw valued at $200 taken from Orval Noeske's Sheffield Lane residence last week.

Noeske engraved his driver's license number on the saw's housing, which deputies feel will increase the chance for recovery.

There are no clues in the case.

Knife-point robbery attempt near Dublin High

DUBLIN — Two girls held a knife to the ribs of a San Leandro woman seated at a bus stop Tuesday in a robbery attempt, but returned the woman's wallet when they found it only contained 50 cents.

Kathryn Rae Walker told Sheriff's deputies she was seated at the bus stop on the corner of Village Parkway and Brighton Drive Tuesday about 2 p.m. when two girls left the lawn area in front of Dublin High School and sat down next to her.

Suddenly she felt something poking at her ribs, and one of the girls demanded all the woman's money. Walker said it felt more like a finger than a knife and refused to give them anything.

Lifting up her other hand, one of the girls said, "This is a finger and this is a knife," pointing to a black handled 4-inch knife.

Walker gave the girls her wallet, but they threw it back in her face upon discovering it contained only 50 cents. "That's not enough to worry about," one of the suspects said.

Both girls got up and walked across the street, and then ran down Brighton towards the rear parking lot at Dublin High.

Walker said she could identify the girls if seen again, but didn't recognize them as Dublin High students. Suspect number one is described as about 15, five feet four inches tall, blond shoulder length hair, blue eyes, blue tinted glasses, wearing blue jeans and a white top.

Suspect number two is about 15, five feet four inches, slender build, dark brown shoulder length hair, olive complexion, wearing red pants and a red top.

$3,000 burglary from Hazel Street home Monday

LIVERMORE — Burglars kicked in the side garage door and then the kitchen door to enter Walter Douglas Anderson's Hazel Street home Monday and steal more than $3,000 in valuables.

Anderson told police that the theft occurred between 7:30-11:45 a.m. Monday. Missing items include two Holly four - barrel carburetors, hydraulic floor jack, two tool boxes with $560 in tools, two Sony color televisions worth $600, Sears stereo system, two digital clocks, two pair Hexcel snow skis with bindings worth $700, five waterskis worth $511, four ski jackets, and three ten - speed bikes.

Police found a partial footprint outside the residence thought to belong to the one of the burglars. There are no suspects in custody at this time.

CB thefts continue, pattern maintained

PLEASANTON — Burglars used a prying tool to unlatch the right wing window and enter Reuben Starkman's pick-up truck while it was parked in front of his Kohn Street home early Tuesday and took a citizen's band radio and eight - channel police scanner with a total value of $400.

A report by the Sheriff's Dept. said the trend in recent valley CB thefts was toward vehicles parked in the street with whip antennas. Burglars in all cases at night would use a screwdriver to pry open the right wing window, without breaking the glass, and take the CB radio. Police have no suspects in the case.

CB unit worth $204 taken

PLEASANTON — In the continuing series of CB thefts, burglars used a screwdriver to pry open the right wing window of Bernard Sankey's car while it was parked in front of his San Antonio Street home early Tuesday and took his CB radio.

Police said the window latch had been unhooked, allowing thieves to enter the car and steal Sankey's radio and a power microphone, all valued at $204. Police have no suspects.

Fat Rat fades away

It was a short life, but a lively one.

FatRat, the fabled rodent who lived with his boy, Kevin, at 885 North P Street in Livermore, took his last flying leap Tuesday night, this time over the edge of eternity to the other side of the mountain and a lotus land of cheese, cheerios and chocolate.

The chubby, brown and white rat was two years and five months old.

FatRat achieved some small degree of fame over the past year when Kevin was visiting his grandmother in New Jersey and his mother wrote a letter to her son describing some of the rodent's more spectacular adventures.

His adventures were pretty exciting so the story was published in The Times, the first of a series of FatRat yarns which lived the pages of this newspaper from time to time.

There were few dull moments in FatRat's life if you can believe the stories, all of which were illustrated by Bill Hayden, former Times advertising man who is currently employed as a motion picture producer.

FatRat made his flying leaps from chests of drawers to big, soft beds, tipped over the garbage, dug nests under his boy's sleeping quarters and stole food anywhere it could be found. He played Santa Claus, scared the daylight out of Kevin's grandmother, traveled to Mendocino county where he briefly considered a SCUBA diving expedition and helped, in his own inimitable manner, prepare Thanksgiving Dinner. (cp He got into trouble now and then but always managed to find his way to a happy ending and he loved his boy as much as Kevin loved him.)

Before long he became so well known in the valley a teacher in at least one Livermore school read the stories to her primary students. If the name, FatRat, was not a household word, he achieved considerably more fame than most rodents, excluding, of course, Mickey Mouse, Jerry the mouse and Bugs Bunny.

The end came at the Animal Hospital of Livermore on South Rincon Avenue when doctors there discovered a tumor in his chest which was crushing his lungs.

The Times learned he died peacefully, though short of breath.

He is survived by his boy, Kevin, his girl, Rachel, their mother, Pat Kennedy, who was the author of the FatRat stories and his sister, Rosenberry, who is also reported ill.

Pat tells us that, though she was incapable for obvious reason of writing this obituary, there may be some FatRat stories in the future.

Ghostwritten, of course, and mailed from that land where all the cats have velvet claws and teeth made of chocolate candy.

Committee to be formed around morning meetings

Those campaign breakfasts started last week by Hayward publisher Floyd Sparks apparently will be legitimized and baptized as a recognized campaign committee.

Yesterday's meeting essentially was a "rehash" of one held last week, according to sources in attendance, which outlined the group's position on the upcoming race for seats on Zone 7's board of directors.

The group presented a "stop (Don) Miller and (Archer) Futch" program that would organize committees in Dublin, Pleasanton and Livermore to collect funds and channel them to three candidates more favorable to growth in the valley.

Danville developer Harlan Geldermann, whose proposed New Town in the Las Positas Valley lies at the heart of the Zone 7 race, was to speak at yesterday's gathering, but did not.

The group reportedly will back former Pleasanton Mayor Ed Kinney, former Livermore Mayor Gib Marguth and Tom Schweser.

All three candidates say they were not invited to either meeting, nor were they contacted afterwards.

About 20 people attended each meeting, including representatives from several valley banks, businesses, the proposed Stoneridge Regional Shopping Center and Sunset Homes.

Barry Schraeder, editor of the Herald and News, a Sparks' publication, said the meetings would continue "probably on a weekly basis."

Deadlines told for civic jobs

LIVERMORE — Citizens interested in serving on the city Planning Commission, Energy Committee or Housing Authority board of directors are reminded that application deadline is 5 p.m. Monday.

Applicants are asked to submit resumes of their qualifications and/or interests in the committees or commission they want to serve. Applications must be in the hands of City Clerk Dorothy Hock at City Hall, 2250 First St., by the Monday deadline.

Hayward makes its big move to status

The City of Hayward has inquired about taking over a portion of the City of Pleasanton!

In a manner of speaking. What the community on the other side of the hill really wants is to be part of the "Good Times" parade Sunday, May 23 along the streets of Pleasanton.

Hayward has asked Radio KNBR and Isabelle Lemon, who's keeping track of entries, for an entry blank so they might show their Centennial float in the "third annual" parade.

There is no entry fee nor judging of parade entries. The parade is open to any and all individuals and application blanks may be obtained by writing to Isabelle at KNBR, Grosvenor

Plaza, San Francisco 94102.

Deadline for applications is April 14 and all those accepted will be notified by May 3— or given their "marching orders."

The first "Good Times" parade was held March 23, 1974, and was the result of an on-air bet between Frank Dill and Mike Cleary of KNBR.

When Cleary lost the bet and had to give a parade for Dill, he "innocently" asked for cities that might like to host a parade. More than two dozen cities applied for the privilege— with Pleasanton getting the nod.

Former mayor Ed Kinney and Ben Fernandez were among those localites instrumental in bringing the parade to Pleasanton.

The "Good Times" parade is being coordinated by the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce and the Pleasanton Jaycees.

VMH plan...

Sunol eventually. But so far, the first center has not increased utilization of VMH to any noticeable extent.

At present, VMH reports near - capacity operation of its relatively small 110 - bed hospital. Yet only 40 per cent of the Valley's highly mobile population is using VMH. The rest of the residents are going elsewhere.

The VMH board and administrator Andrews has made a strong case for relocating a second, larger hospital in Pleasanton just a short freeway trip from most points in their service area.

But they have yet to convince the Contra Costa and Alameda County Comprehensive Health Planning Councils, who oversee development of health and hospital services here and also can veto VMH's plans.

Yesterday's meeting at Peralta Hospital, Oakland, was a joint planning meeting where CHP members for the first time looked at a 28 - page report on the VMH expansion proposal.

No final decision on the proposal is expected until next fall at the earliest.

The report appeared to favor plans to leave VMH in service "an unknown period of time" while building the Pleasanton medical center in two stages.

But the report also took note of the strong outcry in Livermore against giving up the small hospital even in favor of a bigger and better equipped one a few miles to the west.

The report was prepared by HOM (Healthcare Organization and Management) of San Francisco and delivered by consultant Wanda Jones.

A peek inside Livermore's colorful past promised

FASCINATING OLD VICTORIAN

The Gordon home, built in 1895 and now under restoration by the Nielsen family, will be among five homes on the Bicentennial tour of old Livermore set for May 2.

Haven't we all, perhaps just once, closed our eyes and wished we could travel backwards in time? What is it about the past that so fascinates us?

Happier days, livelier days, hard work and fewer conveniences, finer craftsmanship, larger families, quaint fashions, simple pleasures, lofty morals or good food. The past recalls different images for the romantic, the history buff, the sentimentalist, the philosopher, the collector or the realist.

'Visit Old Livermore' on Sunday, May 2 and discover what the past holds for you.

You are invited on a walking tour of five turn-of-the-century Livermore homes, each marked with its own unique character, beauty and history, yet representative of many proud structures now lost. The occasion is Livermore's 100th birthday, and the Nation's Bicentennial. Your host, members of the Livermore Heritage Guild and the Livermore-Amador Symphony Guild.

There is something for everyone who takes the step into the past.

For the romantic, the history of dreams and of perseverance; for the sentimental, family heirlooms of polished mahogany and cut crystal; for the connoisseur of American art, distinctive architecture; for the craftsman, carved staircases and stained-glass windows; for gardeners, magnificent specimens of grandfather palms, lilacs, pomegranates; for history buffs, a little bit of Old Livermore and the past tucked into corners.

The tour begins, appropriately, at the old chapel of the Livermore Presbyterian Church where walkers will receive a souvenir copy of a limited-edition booklet outlining the history of homes on the tour. An extra feature of the booklet will be a map of Old Livermore and an accompanying index of noteworthy historic homes along South Livermore streets nearby — a ready-made driving tour for families, since children are not allowed on the walking tour.

Walkers may then view the five homes in the order of their choice and at their leisure between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Hostesses in bicentennial costume will greet guests, and chamber musicians will set the mood with entertainment at each home.

Homes open for viewing will be those of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Drummond, Mrs. Judith Beery, Mr. and Mrs. Carmelus Owens, and Mr. and Mrs. David Nielsen (a short drive from the first four).

Refreshments will be served at the delightful garden gazebo of Mrs. Judith Beery.

A limited number of tickets is available now at $5 per person from Barbara Otto at 447-7977, Bev Hamlin at 846-1455, Peggy Burdick at 443-9279 or by sending a check and self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Livermore Heritage Guild, P.O. Box 961, Livermore, 94550.

Sorority anticipates annual Founder's Day

The annual Founder's Day dinner for local members of the international sorority, Beta Sigma Phi, will be celebrated April 28 at Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton.

The nine chapters of the Livermore-Amador Valley City Council will participate in the gala event. They are Xi Xi Psi, Gamma Alpha Kappa, Xi Pi Omega, Delta Gamma Xi, Delta Gamma Omega, Xi Rho Omega, Xi Theta Theta, Delta Ketz Kappa and Pi Rho.

President of the valley council is Jackie Rudolf of Pleasanton.

Beta Sigma Phi was founded in 1931 for women, to offer its members greater appreciation and enjoyment of the liberal arts and to broaden their social contacts. Though Beta Sigma Phi is not a service organization, its members participate in several service projects such as fund-raising for the Stanford Kidney Research Fund and the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Several degrees offer increasing cultural and social opportunity to members as they advance in the society. Chapters in order of degree include Nu Phi Mu, Ritual of Jewels, Exemplar, Preceptor and Preceptor Laureate.

As part of Founder's Day celebrations, each valley chapter will choose a "Girl of the Year" and present its chapter highlights.

Alma Rasmussen honored by Order of Eastern Star

Long-time Pleasanton resident, Alma H. Rasmussen, will be presented a 50-year pin and honorary life membership in the Pleasanton Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star tonight at 8 p.m.

Worthy Matron Ruth Nielsen will preside at the meeting at which the Pleasanton Chapter will entertain Semper Fidelis Chapter of Livermore. Past Matron Amy Orloff will serve refreshments for the gathering.

April is cancer crusade month

The goal set for Pleasanton residents in the upcoming April crusade for the American Cancer Society is $7,500, according to Pleasanton Chairman Margaret Rueff and Alameda County Chairman Gene Upshaw. A kick-off luncheon for volunteers is set April 7.

Oakland Raider Star Gene Upshaw will head the American Cancer Society's 1976 educational and fund-raising drive in Alameda County, it was announced.

This is the sixth year Upshaw has led the society's annual April drive. Upshaw will be joined by approximately 12,000 volunteers in the crusade to support the American Cancer Society's programs of research, public education and patient service and rehabilitation.

Local leaders for the crusade which commences April 26 include Co-chairmen Karren Pentony and Margaret Rueff for Pleasanton; Karen Phillips for Livermore; and Co-chairmen Silvia Hathaway and Virginia Woy for Dublin.

A kick-off luncheon for crusade workers, and all interested in helping in the campaign is set Wednesday, April 7 at the Livermore Presbyterian Church at 11:30 a.m. Speakers will be Upshaw and Dr. Barry Kaminsky, a Berkeley scientist working on a cancer-related project. The film "Michael and Me" will also be shown.

Hundreds of valley volunteers are needed in the upcoming door-to-door crusade, according to local chairmen. For more information about the kick-off luncheon contact Mrs. Rueff at 846-1628. Babysitting will be provided at the Presbyterian Church for the event.

Persons interested in joining the crusade may contact local leaders Mrs. Phillips at 443-1628, Mrs. Rueff at 846-1838, Mrs. Hathaway at 828-1731 or Mrs. Woy at 828-2854.

Hawaii signs energy pact

The second of several anticipated agreements designed to achieve effective federal-state cooperation in developing new energy sources and improving energy conservation has been signed by Hawaii and the Energy Research and Development Administration.

The agreement, a memorandum of understanding, provides a framework in which ERDA and Hawaii can establish guidelines for potential energy-related projects. No specific projects or funding are involved at this time.

The memorandum, which remains in effect for five years, provides for the state to identify regional needs, skills and resources in energy-related areas and then submit specific proposed projects to ERDA for funding technical advice or other support, said an ERDA spokesperson.

Dr. Robert Seamans, Jr., ERDA Administrator, and Governor George Ariyoshi signed the agreement March 25 in Honolulu. It came two days after ERDA signed the first agreement with the State of Arizona.

"ERDA and Hawaii have a mutual interest in developing energy sources and in energy conservation and applications," said Seamans. "Hawaii can boast a high level of technical expertise in certain energy fields, a state government dedicated to energy development, and a broad base of public support. This agreement will provide a vehicle for specific energy projects to proceed expeditiously."

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded for the first three places in each category. Youngsters with motocross cards will pay $1 while the cost to all others will be $1.25.

The race will take place at Robert Livermore Park on East Avenue, adjacent to the new fire station. For more information, contact LARPD, 447-7300.

There is no charge for the classes or materials. If prospective teachers wish to view a class now in session to see how English (reading and writing) is taught to the foreign-born, they may do so any Tuesday or Friday from 9 to 12 when students meet at the same church location.

For more information, Mrs. Hopkins may be reached at 443-0191.

She is also making an appeal for volunteer drivers for students coming from the Pleasanton area.

More than 900 aircraft were lost while dropping an aluminum trail across the Hump, as the Himalaya Mountains were called. The terrible weather and rugged terrain posed a danger as great as Music is happiness you can hear.

Valley music lovers unite!

Music lovers in the valley are invited to share an evening with Livermore's two philharmonic ensembles — the Livermore - Amador Symphony and the Livermore Civic Chorus — Saturday, April 3 at the Livermore Presbyterian Church.

For a third year the chorus and symphony will join forces to entertain listeners with a select program: Bernstein's "Chichester Psalms" featuring soloist Robert Kruzner, Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite," and Mozart's "Concerto in C Major."

Highlight of the 8:15 p.m. program will be the Mozart concerto written for two violins, with a duet performance by Nila Stubbs Lee and Guy C. Corynen.

Mother, Hayward State University student and violin instructor, Nila has been active in community orchestras of Santa Monica, San Jose and Livermore, as she and her family moved with her husband's job transfers. (Robert Lee is an engineer at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory and an accomplished violinist in his own right.)

Born and reared in Provo, Utah, Mrs. Lee played in the renowned Utah Symphony from 1946 to 1953 in a first chair position. LeRoy J. Robertson was her principal teacher at Brigham Young University, with brief violin coaching from Feri Roth, Henri Temiamke and Otis Egleman.

She and her husband are proud parents of nine very musical children. Corynen was persuaded to take up the violin again after 20 years of separation to play with the Livermore - Amador Symphony. His musical history, which begins at the age of two when it was discovered he had perfect pitch, is brilliant.

Born into a musically - renowned family in Belgium, Corynen was playing Mozart in concert at age 11; at 12 he received the Belgium gold medal for the performing arts; at 13 he was summoned by Queen Elizabeth of Belgium to play in a private audience at the royal palace; at 18 he had earned a bachelor's degree in music from Brussel's Royal Conservatory.

Breaking from family ties, Corynen joined the Belgium paratroopers, and later earned a Ph.D. in mathematics. He is now employed at Lawrence Livermore Laboratories.

He plays violin with the L-A Symphony in the desire to share his talent with the community audience.

The "sweep" of Oscars in the headline categories Monday by "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" is the first such domination by any film since Clark Gable, Claudette Colbert and "It Happened One Night" accomplished it in 1934.

Monday night's Academy Awards at the Chandler Pavilion in Los Angeles will not go down in Oscar annals as anything more than the run-of-the-mill awards shows — with the exception of Louise Fletcher's poignant acceptance and acknowledgement of her deaf mute parents.

Miss Fletcher's moment went a long way to save a reasonably good show from becoming mediocre.

Now if someone can explain to me why the cameraman kept panning to Elizabeth Taylor! Was it Elizabeth's gown or the empty seat beside her?

The Oscar Guesspert managed to hit five out of six in the Oscar Sweepstakes (flubbing Best Actress by picking Glenda Jackson). If I could do half that well at the track I'd take my two-week vacation in early July and spend it at the Fairgrounds track!

Many of the theaters in the valley will be showing the major Academy Awards pictures in the next few weeks with the Vine Theatre opening "The Sunshine Boys" tonight.

Several of the award-winners will be seen in

LAA announces 19th spring show

"America the Beautiful" is the theme of the spring art show to be sponsored by the Livermore Art Association for a 19th year May 8 and 9 at The Barn on Pacific Avenue in Livermore.

An innovative idea for the show, conceived by General Show Chairman Lili Gordon, is the division of entries into two categories — general and amateur. The amateur division will provide an opportunity for special recognition of newcomers to art, as well as encourage new material never before shown in Livermore competition.

Artists interested in entering the spring show may obtain entries from the LAA Gallery at the Carnegie Building, the LARP offices at 71 Trevarno Rd., or the Way-Up Gallery in Livermore. Entry deadlines and receiving for the show are set April 28 from 5 to 9 p.m., April 29 from 4 to 8 p.m. at The Barn.

First, second and third prize ribbons will be awarded in five categories for both the general and amateur divisions: Oils, watercolors, graphics - mixed media, textiles - stitchery, and pottery - jewelry - sculpture.

A special award will be given to the work of art voted Most Popular by the public. The LAA also hopes to offer cash awards in the general division, budget permitting.

Judges for the show will include Kaethe Klot of Berkeley, expert on fiber craft, Francis Woodcock, a freelance San Francisco artist, and John Pena, Concord instructor in portraiture. Awards will be presented May 7 at 8:30 p.m.

Entry rules demand that all work be original in concept, execution and design, with no work done under supervision acceptable. All entries must be suitably framed and ready to hang, with no painting to exceed 50 inches, no sculpture to exceed 50 pounds, and a limit of two entries per artist.

To qualify for the amateur division, the artist must never have previously entered a juried show in any category and the work is not to have been shown in Livermore competition at any time. Fee per entry is $2.50 for LAA members and $3.50 for non-members.

LILI GORDON will chair the upcoming spring show for the LAA.

Hop on Pleasanton's bicentennial bandwagon

Pleasanton citizens are invited to join the community's full-scale celebration of American art, the Pleasanton Bicentennial Heritance Festival, planned May 15 and 16 at Amador Valley Community Park.

The two-day festival will encompass arts and crafts booths, an adult and children's art show, classic film show, performing arts, hayrides, antique car display and demonstrations of pioneer home arts.

Sponsors of the major bicentennial event are the Pleasanton Bicentennial Commission, the Pleasanton Art League and the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce.

Persons interested in participating in the festival may contact the following chairmen: Billie Schmer at 846-5437 or Phyllis Wentworth at 846-4306 for rental of an arts and crafts booth; Eunice Dobbins at 828-6668 for entry forms for the adult art show; Dorothy Gordon at 846-5801 for information on the children's art show; Charlotte Severin at 846-6382 or Betty Nostrand at 846-7688 for demonstration of pioneer arts.

Special invitation

Did you know that the Livermore Art Association's gallery, located at the Carnegie Building, has many art books available for reference?

Current issues of "West Art" and "American Artist" are on hand, as well as several books on needlecraft.

New additions to the growing collection include a book on toys entitled "Whilligs and Whimpy Diddles," "Watercolor Workshop" by Robert Wood, "20,000 Years of Fashion," and "American Folk Art."

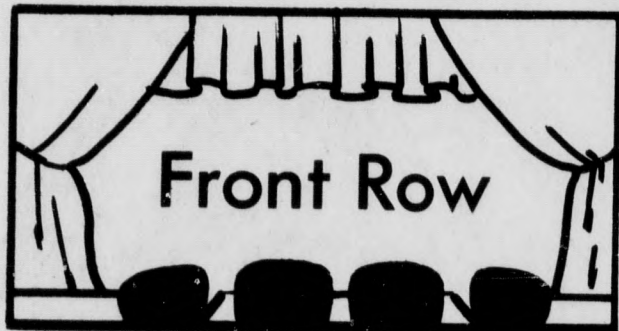

The public is invited to come in, have a cup of coffee and browse during gallery hours, 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday through Sunday.

Dublin craft show this weekend

Valley Artisans Carol Goff, Dolores McVicar and Gisele Stamos put a final loving touch on hand-crafted items to be featured at the Valley Craft Guild's fourth annual spring show this weekend. The show opens Friday, April 2 at the Howard Johnson's in Dublin from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., and continues Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Participating will be dozens of valley residents with wall-hangings, copper enamel art, draped dolls, floral arrangements, jewelry, stitchery, pottery, sand paintings, macrame, dough art and much more.

new screen vehicles in the next few months. Nicholson will return, co-starred with Marlon Brando, in "The Missouri Breaks," and "Jaws" director Robert Altman has "Buffalo Bill and the Indians, or Sitting Bull's History Lesson" (!) ready with Paul Newman, Burt Lancaster and Joel Gray in starring roles.

Also coming are "Midway," Universal's recreation of the turning-point battle in World War II and starring Henry Fonda, Toshiro Mifune and Robert Mitchum, and Elia Kazan's dramatic "The Last Tycoon."

Student theater enthusiasts will want to see the California High School Dramateurs production of "Our Town," opening tonight at the school on Broadmoor in San Ramon. The particular joy of seeing this play is the theater in which it is being presented.

Curtain time tonight, Friday and Saturday is 8 o'clock.

John Cretan, drama teacher at the school, also serves as stage manager and he is directing Toni Vavrek, Jeff Huntsman, Jonie Ebey, Steve Thomas, Brenda Rinard, and Chris Osheroff in the Thornton Wilder classic.

This weekend will be the final chance valleyites will have to see how junior high-age students handle a musical comedy stage production, in this instance "Bye, Bye Birdie."

Pleasanton Middle School teacher Rebekah Caplan is directing the production which opened last weekend and reportedly drew almost 500 for the first two nights.

The cast includes Mike Ames, Chris Carabello, Kathy Carey, Alison Mackay, Karen Tockey, Dan Butler, Jon Re, and Keith Nelson. Curtain Friday and Saturday at Amador Valley High auditorium is 8 p.m.

MARQUEE — Pauline Kael, a nationally-known film critic, will speak tonight on "Images of American Film" at Cal's Zellerbach Auditorium at 7. Admission is free. "Friends From Outer Space" is the lecture title of UFO expert Hugh Barnes. He'll be at the Amador High library at 7 p.m. on April 8. Admission is $1. The Fallon House Theatre at Columbia State Historic Park (above Sonoma) will open its 27th season July 3 with a production of "Oklahoma." Ticket information may be had by writing Fallon House Theatre, Columbia, Calif. 95310.

LAA introduces its show chairwoman

Chairman for the Livermore Art Association's spring show, "America the Beautiful," is Lili Gordon.

Lili's interest in art began when, as a young girl, she assisted her engineer father in making commercial drawings.

Of Russian descent, Lili met her husband in Augsburg, Germany, following World War II and came to Los Angeles as a G.I. bride. She is married to Dr. David Gordon, director of research at the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Livermore. They have three children.

Lili started painting in 1956 while she and her husband were studying in England. Two years ago in Livermore, with encouragement from her family, she began taking classes in still-life, landscape and portraiture. After much study, she still modestly considers herself just a beginner. Her favorite medium is oil paint.

The Gordon's twin sons, fourteen-year-old Tim and Tony, and seventeen-year-old son, Val, share their mother's interest in art. Val enjoys cartooning and an art appreciation class at Granada High School.

Aside from art, Mrs. Gordon is also a gourmet cook of Russian cuisine. She has considered offering instruction in that area, but admits that her interest in art has taken precedence for the time being.

Workshop set this weekend at Pleasanton

A two-day workshop featuring Bay Area Artist Bob Nash will be sponsored this weekend by The Valley Artists of Dublin at the Pleasanton Cultural Arts Building.

Instruction by Nash from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday and Saturday will include problems relating to individual subjects in still-life and landscape paintings of watercolor and acrylic. Fee for the sessions is $15 per person. For further information contact Phyllis Couper at 462-4931.

Highly-regarded for his portraiture and landscape painting, Nash is also well-known in art circles for his participation as instructor in the Jade Fon annual workshops at Asilomar. He also maintains his own studio at Santa Rosa, and serves as vice-president of the Society of Western Artists.

Celebrate '76!

A Mexican-American Fiesta, honoring the re-enactment of the De Anza Expedition of 1776, will catch the festive mood of the Bicentennial Saturday, April 3 at the Paramount Theatre in Oakland. The fiesta is sponsored by Livermore's Latin American Services Organization under the auspices of the Alameda County Bicentennial Commission. Featured will be Actor Richardo Montalban, the Chabot College Ballet Folklorico and the Mariachi Aztlan, as well as members of the De Anza Re-enactment Party. Call the Paramount for reservations.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

In the '20s the best auction bridge in the world was played at New York's Knickerbocker Whist Club. Culbertson and Sims were two of the best, but many others contributed tremendous help in getting contract bridge on its feet.

One was Ted Lightner. Ted, who is now 82 or 83, plays rubber bridge at The Regency Whist Club several days a week.

The best known of his many contributions to the game is the Lightner slam double. This double means that when your opponents bid a slam on their own steam you are asking your partner to make an unusual lead, rather than the one you would normally make.

Here is a simple example of this bid which every expert uses today. Without the Lightner double West would open a club. East would take the first trick and South the rest. After the double, West leads a heart and poor South is one trick short of his contract.

Ask the Jacobys

A Florida reader wants to know what the rule is when, after a hand is dealt, bid, and a few cards have been played, it is discovered that one hand has too many and one too few cards.

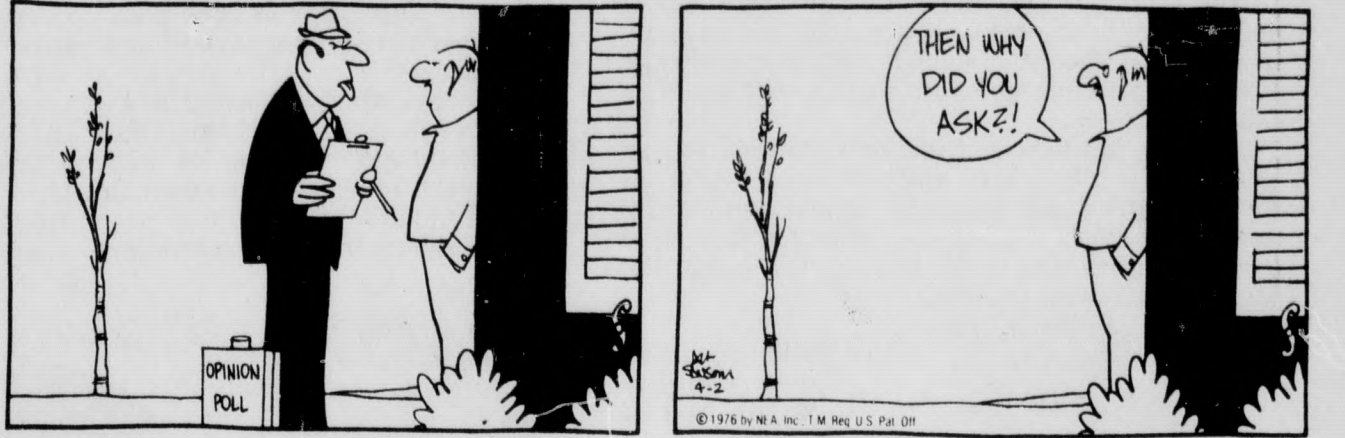

The answer is that the hand is a misdeal and is thrown in.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

On sports

Who was that masked man?

Mike Zampa

Another school district has hoisted the white flag of surrender in the fight to keep prep sports out of the poor house.

It's getting to be the vogue solution to a ticklish problem.

This time the vanquished is Concord's school district. Following defeat of a bond measure in the last election, the city's school chief, James Slezak recommended suspension of funding for high school sports.

It was a familiar refrain, one sounded in San Francisco a year ago, and repeated scores of times up and down the state. School administrators have turned to doomsday dialogue instead of enacting measures to bring athletics within the scope of shrinking budgets.

And who can blame them?

Capitulation speeches have proved a highly successful method of rescuing endangered sports programs. In San Francisco, word was that the schools were broke. There wasn't enough money to finish out the sports year. Then came Bill Graham's benefit rock concert, and the sudden discovery of hundreds of thousands of hitherto undetected dollars in the budget.

Late last summer the scene shifted to Fremont. The disaster stories were just as imminent. There wasn't enough money to kick off the football season. One of the country's sanctified institutions would go by the boards.

But a community drive geared up and the season was saved.

With that kind of track record, surrender must have looked good to Slezak. His school district, and the Mt. Diablo Valley Athletic League, are feeling the pinch of inflation. When the voters nixed a bond measure, the most attractive alternative for the school district was to concede.

Slezak only recommended that athletic funds be cut off. But that was enough to get the ball rolling. It was picked up by Concord assemblyman Dan Boatwright, who has established himself as the latest night on a white stallion, riding out of the sunset with a dramatic reprieve for kids sports.

Boatwright's rescue operation calls for a five per cent tax override to fund high school athletics, and other extra curricular activities, like the band.

That latter clause has been vital in every school sports calamity since San Francisco. Can't have folks thinking that athletics are the only concern of the community and its legislators. Throw in the band and the drama club. Show people that there are other important kids besides the ones who can throw the ball between the seams of a zone defense.

Another Contra Costa legislator, Sen. John Nejedly, says he may throw his support behind Boatwright if the override proposal is brought forth. Boatwright isn't sure if his measure has to be carried to Sacramento, or if it can simply be administered within the school district. He hasn't initiated any procedures as of yet.

But snatching high school athletics from the clutches of bankruptcy has got to be an attractive political move. Slezak opened the door for a savior. Boatwright is waiting to step through.

Boatwright's scheme would cost an additional $5 a year to the owner of a $40,000 home. It would raise about $300,000 annually, all of it earmarked for those after school activities.

The override would be lifted anywhere from two, to five years after implementation.

Any politician's motives are open to question, and in this case, Boatwright is no different. Perhaps his only concern is the continuation of sports programs. Perhaps he sees a bonanza at the polls when his term expires.

There's no question, however, that $300,000 would help win the war against financial doom.

The problem with Boatwright's solution is extricating politics from the goal of saving kids' games. When you turn to a legislator for help, that's not easy.

Already his proposal has forced a split in the coaching community. Their haggling over the politics of the issue may overshadow the crucial point, that money is drying up. Of course some coaches favor anything that would secure high school athletics.

One faction opposes Boatwright's method, however. Their objection has something to do with earmarked funds. Why finance specific programs arbitrarily, some Concord coaches are asking. Every department within the school could use a transfusion.

This argument is just a smoke screen, answer backers of the Boatwright plan. They feel that a segment of the coaching population is out to torpedo the tax override for personal interests. If it loses, the alternative could be another bond election, which might include pay hikes for coaches.

Animosities are already spreading. The potential is there for a bitter split between coaches, teachers and parents.

Meanwhile the sports programs remain jeopardized.

A more rational approach might be one followed by some EBAL schools. In the face of similar fi-

Don depth sinks Dublin

Once again proving that quantity is of primary importance in dual meets Amador High School's swimming team rolled to an easy 104-65 victory over host Dublin yesterday in a EBAL meet.

Dublin won six of the 11 varsity events but the Dons' superior depth proved to be the difference. Amador swept the 50-yard freestyle and the diving competition besides picking up most of the other second and third places.

Paul Morton, Mark Allen and Steve Pratuch each won individual first place medals and swam on the winning 200-yard medley relay team to spark the Amador effort.

Mark Steinhoff was outstanding for the Gaels, taking two first places and swimming a strong leg on the winning 400-yard freestyle relay. Steinhoff won the 200-yard individual medley in 2:09.3 and took the 100-yard freestyle in 50.3.

Victor Hinojosa was also a standout for the Gaels. He won the 100-yard butterfly in 58.5 and was second behind Amador's Brian Story in the 100-yard breaststroke. Story's time was 1:05.5.

Kevin McKenna was another standout for the losing Gaels. He won the 200-yard freestyle in a blazing 1:52.9 and took the 500-yard freestyle in 5:00.6. He also swam on the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Amador coach Chuck Volonte felt his team was improving steadily this season.

"We are getting our times down," he said. "So we are improving. I was pleased when we swept the 50-yard freestyle. I was expecting we would do well in that event but I didn't think we'd sweep it."

Amador had an even easier time in the frosh-soph meet, taking a 130-31 victory. The Dons won every event. They won both relays in impressive fashion.

The Don 200-yard medley relay squad recorded a 2:03.4 clocking while the 400-yard freestyle relay team won in 4:09.5.

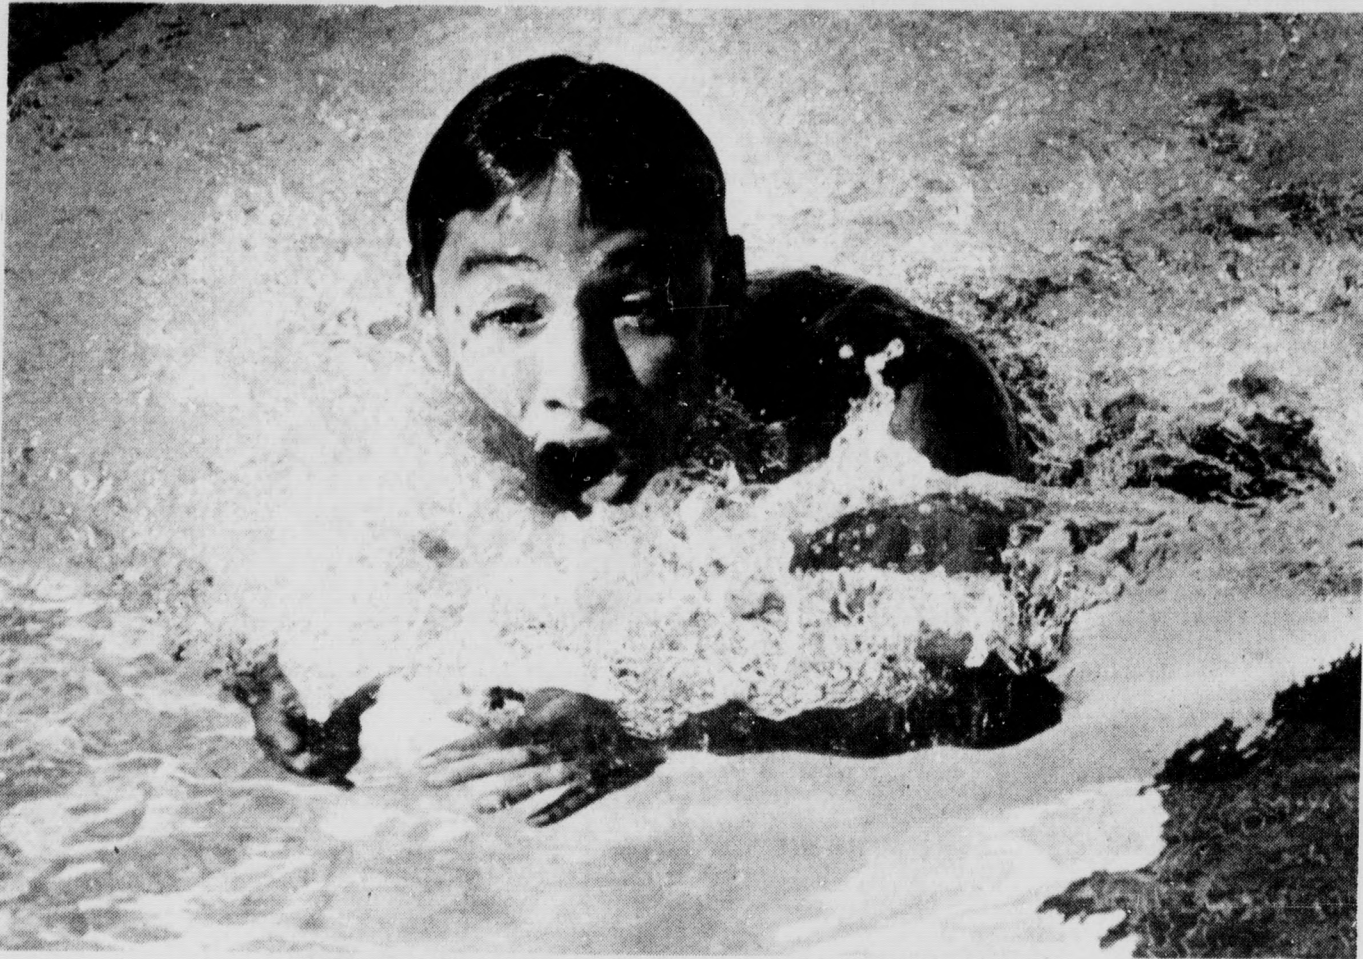

Amador will meet a big obstacle in its drive toward a hoped-for EBAL crown when it tangles with unbeaten Granada next week.

Ruffner star in Mat win

Granada swam to its third consecutive EBAL swimming victory yesterday, a 96-41 workout against Monte Vista at the Mats' pool.

Steve Ruffner clocked a 1:05.8 in the 100 breast stroke to give the Matadors his best time of the season in that event, highlighting an otherwise uneventful day.

A cold, gusty wind slowed down times considerably, but the Matadors were still able to win easily as a result of their limitless depth.

Chris Hoenig brought home three firsts for the Mats by winning the 200 Individual Medley in 2:03.6, well ahead of his nearest competitor, teammate David Johansen. Hoenig also took the 100 Backstroke with an excellent time of 1:00.7 and was a member of the winning 400 Freestyle Relay team that finished in 3:34.5.

Hoenig's 100 Back time was the second best in the EBAL this season, behind Livermore's Paul Lohmann, who has clocked a 59.5.

Monte Vista's Steve Czeka led the Mustangs with two first place finishes. Czeka won the 200 freestyle event in 1:55.2 and took the 500 freestyle in 5:19.3.

Granada's 200 medley relay team of Johansen, Ruffner, Kurt Kyle and Andy Rivenes finished first in 1:53.1, exactly six seconds slower than their season best.

Greg Heras was a double winner for the Mats, taking the 100 Freestyle and 100 Butterfly. Heras won the free in 53.6 while taking the fly in 1:00.5.

Granada's Kyle won the 50 freestyle, giving the Mats their eighth first of the afternoon by winning in 25.1 seconds. No diving events were held.

In Frosh-Soph competition, Granada's 200 Medley Relay team turned in a blazing time of 2:04.5 to lead the Mats to an easy 99-49 win.

Other Granada firsts included Andrew Turnbull in the 100 freestyle (58.9) and Monty Young in the diving competition (178.45 points).

The Matadors take on Amador High next Wednesday in Pleasanton in a key EBAL contest. Both squads are undefeated in league play and the winner of the meet will have the inside track to the EBAL title.

Trevino avoids Masters talks

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — While many of his peers are down the road in Augusta, Ga., Lee Trevino disclaims any interest — any immediate interest, that is — in the Masters.

"That's next week," Trevino said after a practice round over the wet and soggy, 6,643-yard, par-71 Sedgefield Country Club course, site of the $230,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament that begins Thursday.

"I'll start getting excited about the Masters on Sunday afternoon when this one is over. Right now I'm in Greensboro, and the Greensboro Open is the tournament I'm thinking about. You always try to concentrate on the tournament you're playing in at the moment."

But that's just on an immediate basis. On a long-range basis, the flamboyant, talkative Trevino has a great, abiding interest in next week's Masters, the first of the year's Big Four Tournaments.

"The way things have worked out, that's maybe my biggest goal, winning the Masters," Trevino said. "I'd be foolish if I said it wasn't."

"When I won the PGA (two years ago), that changed everything."

Dublin reaches finals

The Dublin Shamrocks fought their way into the State Cup championships last weekend by disposing of the Sierra Savages in the semifinals, 3-1.

The match went into overtime.

Dublin will compete in the State Cup under-14 finals weekend after next in San Jose.

It was the club's fourth straight victory in State Cup elimination play.

Goalkeeper Danny Scott was a crucial figure in last weekend's triumph, turning away 13 Sierra shots. Mark Jennings was also instrumental with a strong defensive showing.

Scott Jeffery's goal, assisted by Mike Escoto, sent Dublin into the overtime period.

Escoto opened the scoring in the extra period on an assist by Jimmy Grant. Grant scored moments later, assisted by Scott Jeffery.

Playing vital roles in the Shamrock offense were Jorge Garratt, Mike Gadow and Robert Witmer.

The Dublin Paddys advanced to the Association Finals in the under-12 bracket with a 2-1 win over the Livermore Patriots.

In the 45th minute of play Dublin tied the score when a Livermore full-back guided the ball into his own goal.

Joe Garlington won it for Dublin nine minutes later when he broke free against the Patriot goalkeeper and punched the ball by him. Chris Davis assisted.

Robbie Allen, Gary Phillips, Kevin Earl and Jeff Gellerman were all outstanding for the Paddy defense.

Danny Bynum had four saves.

Local club has shoot

Charlie Litz

The North Bay League held a competition shoot at the local rod and gun club Saturday.

Bob Clenner, president of the league, reports the following scores. Some of the competitors are Livermore club members, others are well known through their participation in shoots.

High overall winner was John Tirri with a score of 144 for the Golden Bears.

Handicap — AA — (27-26) Cliff Erickson, Newark, 48; A — (24-25) Ken Wells, Martinez, 48; B — (22-23) Jim Petersen, Island City, 49; C — (20-21) Jack Carlyle, USI, 49; D — (19) Dale Mueller, Livermore, 48.

High lady — Beth Malley, Newark, 133.

High junior — Bob Kelly, Richmond, 137.

High sub-junior — Ward Kidder, Newark, 118.

Doubles — AA — Frank Lopez, Chabot, 48; A — Tom Caton, Island City, 48; B — Walt Marshall, Martinez, 47; C — Rich Cocanour, Peninsula, 46; D — Cliff Glenn, Newark, 43.

Sixteen yards — AA — Tom Michell, Livermore, 50; A — Grant Davidson, Sunnyvale, 50; B — Jean Vargas, USI, 50; C — Matt Lofstrom, Island City, 47; D — Roi Free, Chabot, 46.

A POLL OF rifle users reveals a variety of favorites, but of the 120 persons questioned, the most popular caliber is still the 30.06 (it's been around since 1906).

Some of the combinations are the following: Eighty-four used the bolt action. Nine preferred lever action. Nine used pump gun. Semi-auto was used by 18.

Calibers included eight 30/30 Win.; one 35 Rem.; five 30/06; four 308 Win.; three 243 Win.; 11 7 mm. Rem.

Scopes used included four Banner, four-power; 16 BpL 2-8 power; six Bushnell 2-power; sixteen Leopold 2-8 power; 17 Redfield 4-8 power; 16 Weatherby 2-10 power, 52 Weaver 2-8 power and three Iron Sight Williams.

Bolt action calibers proved to be as follows:

Three 222 Rem.; three 22/250; three 25/06; five 6 mm. Rem.; three 300 Withby; 54 30/06; three 77 mm. Rem.; six 270; three 7x57; two 44 mag.; four 308; two 240 Wethby; 15 257; 12 243 and two 308 Norma.

This shows a lot of variety in personal preference, though the 06 is still a favorite. It is relatively easy to reload and good results are obtained from the reloads.

LIONEL AVILA and Trin Untulan took advantage of the high tide at Berkeley Pier recently (supposed to be the best time for catching those really big fish). Unfortunately, the high tide was accompanied by high wind. While Lionel went from one side of the pier to the other, trying to find a good place to cast from, Trin conserved his energy by taking a nap. A few fish responded, but the wind finally caused them to give up — until the next high tide.

nancial blight, Livermore schools adopted economies years ago. Towels were eliminated from the gym. Now a travel restrictions has been imposed. Reliance on bus transportation has been diminished slightly.

None of the measures will win the fight against sports bankruptcy. But they're a more positive step than waving a white handkerchief over head. Do that, and there's no telling who will come along to bail you out. Or whether you'll get rescued at all.

Skylarks make playoffs

The Skylarks secured at least a playoff spot against the Shamrocks for Dublin Girls Soccer's under-14 Green Division championship by edging the Celtics, 1-0.

Drayers breeze to easy victory

Ideal Drayage's long-haul offense clobbered the No Stars, 73-51 Tuesday night in Livermore Recreation Basketball.

The Drayers raced to a 36-15 halftime lead and breezed to victory.

Mark Barbano was the leading scorer with 25 points, 16 of them coming before intermission. Teammates Leo Beterman and Mike Mueller added 17 and 11 points to the cause. The No Stars' Gary Rogers scored 21 points.

New York Life downed Galaxy, in other action, 57-34. Mike Willis' 19 points, and 18 by Lee Dewy, were the difference. Joe Burescic of Galaxy pumped in 10 points.

Warriors win

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Phil Smith scored 10 of 14 points in the fourth quarter Wednesday night to help the Golden State Warriors pull away to a 95-88 victory over the Washington Bullets.

Smith, who made just one of eight shots in the first half, sank a 12-footer to break a 79-79 tie and put the Warriors ahead to stay.

The victory was the Warriors third in four games with the Bullets this season and the second in two visits here. Golden State beat Washington four straight in last year's NBA finals.

Rick Barry paced the Warriors, now 53-21, with 22 points. Charlie Johnson and Jamaal Wilks added 18 each.

Golden State trailed 45-43 at halftime, but scored 10 straight points early in the third quarter to go ahead 55-47.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Cleon Jones, last year's bad boy with the New York Mets, is swinging his bat this spring at a comeback clip that could earn him a starting outfield job with the Chicago White Sox.

Jones, onetime star of the Mets, was not claimed by any major league team last season after New York released him at his own request in July.

Manager Yogi Berra, since fired, called Jones a disruptive influence and gave his bosses a "him or me" ultimatum. Jones had refused to take the field when Berra sent him in as a substitute.

Solar energy will operate two shopping centers

Two major shopping centers will be heated and cooled by solar energy, according to Energy Research and Development Administration which operates Lawrence Livermore Laboratory.

The two shopping centers will be constructed at Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, and Kirtland Air Force Base, Albuquerque, N.M.

ERDA will provide $900,000 to cover a major portion of the cost of the solar systems and instrumentation to monitor performance. Costs of $5.4 million for construction and fixtures will be paid by the Army and Air Force Exchange Service, which will own the buildings.

The Texas building will cover 60,000 square feet and the one in New Mexico will cover 40,000 square feet.

Dr. Henry Marvin, Director of ERDA's Division of Solar Energy, said the solar systems are expected to supply over 95 percent of the heating and more than 60 percent of the cooling needs of the facilities.

"As far as we know, these will be the first U.S. shopping centers to be heated and cooled with solar energy. We expect the information and experience gained here to help improve the performance and lower the cost of solar systems for similar civilian uses," said Marvin.

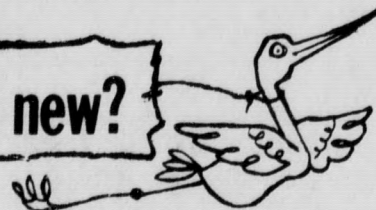

"Military construction plays an important part in ERDA's demonstration program for solar heating and cooling because performance can be effectively monitored and operating costs can be compared with non-solar systems," said Marvin.

The Department of Defense is designing solar space heating and domestic hot water heating systems for 50 houses on 15 military bases. ERDA will provide partial funding for these systems.

ERDA expects to announce in a few weeks the winners of approximately $4 million in contracts for placing solar systems in civilian commercial buildings in many states. The winners will be selected from the 308 responses to a request issued by ERDA in October, 1975.

NOW WORLD SAVERS GET SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

WORLD SAVERS GET FOUR FREE SERVICES THAT ARE REALLY FREE

We've just put together a package of free services we challenge any major savings and loan or bank in the state to match. Because we want your business. And we're out to do our level best to convince you that we're a better place for your savings.

Banks charge for these services, and once upon a time you needed a thousand dollar balance to get these "Free" services from savings and loan institutions. But now, a breakthrough. At World, just for being a saver, you get the following services absolutely free:

*Over $1,000,000,000 in assets as of 9/30/75.

TRAVELERS CHECKS

You get up to $1,000 in free travelers checks each year. Why risk carrying cash, when you can protect yourself without charge.

MONEY ORDERS

You get up to five free money orders each month. Use this safe convenient way to remit money by mail, and avoid using cash.

NOTARY SERVICE

You get free notary service. A licensed notary public will authenticate your important documents.

NO TRUSTEE FEES ON IRA OR KEOGH

Most institutions charge fees on IRA and Keogh Retirement Plans. Not us. We waive all trustee fees. Not for the first year, but for the life of the account.

That's right. Now all of these services are free to all World savers. Check the competition. Go ahead. Then, we think you'll come to World.

YOU ALSO GET MORE FOR LESS

With a minimum deposit of only $1,000 (some institutions insist on $2,000 or even more) we give you free the following additional services, services which many banks still charge for.

FREE SAFE DEPOSIT BOX

Right on the premises. Not only is it free, it's also convenient, and it's the safest place you can put your valuables and important papers. You can leave your worries, too.

FREE CHECKING ACCOUNT

Through cooperating banks. Avoid expensive service charges or minimum checking account balances.

FREE TRUST DEED COLLECTION

A trouble-free means to collect loan or trust deed payments. We'll deposit funds to your savings account, so you'll earn interest from the moment they're received.

YOU GET HIGH INTEREST, TOO

No bank or savings and loan pays higher interest than World on insured savings. In fact, you can assure yourself 8.06%/7.75% on $1,000 certificates held for 9 years. Your money will actually double in less than nine years when interest and principal are held in your account and compounded continuously.

This high interest rate is guaranteed. You don't have to worry about recessions or market fluctuations. And accounts are insured to $40,000 or more.

WORLD'S HIGH INTEREST SAVINGS PLANS

ANNUAL YIELD* / ANNUAL RATE

8.06% / 7.75% Guaranteed on $1,000 minimum balance. Term 6-10 years.

7.79% / 7.50% Guaranteed on $1,000 minimum balance. Term 4-6 years.

6.98% / 6.75% Guaranteed on $1,000 minimum balance. Term 2 1/2-4 years.

6.72% / 6.50% Guaranteed on $1,000 minimum balance. Term 1-2 1/2 years.

5.92% / 5.75% Guaranteed on $500 minimum balance. Term 90 days.

5.39% / 5.25% Current annual rate on passbook account. $5.00 minimum balance.

*Effective annual yield when principal and interest are left in the account and compounded continuously. NOTE: Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawals from certificates.

NOW'S THE TIME FOR YOU TO GET IT ALL TOGETHER.

Free services. High interest. An exciting new package from World Savings. And you should be getting it all.

So, come in and see us. Compare our rates and services with the other major savings and loans in California. We think you'll like doing business with us. And we'd like to prove it. There's a lot more we'd like to tell you. More ways to save your money and earn your money. More ways to show you how to get more out of this world at World Savings and Loan.
